

PRIME RATE OF THE MOZAMBICAN FINANCIAL SYSTEM

COMMUNIQUÉ No. 05/2026

I. PRIME RATE OF THE MOZAMBICAN FINANCIAL SYSTEM

As part of implementing the Reference Rate Agreement of the Mozambican Banking System, the Mozambican Banking Association (AMB) announces the Reference Rate, the Cost Premium, and the Prime Rate for June 2026, as described in the table below:

Prime Rate of the Mozambican Financial System (calculated by the BM and the AMB)

Description	Rate
Reference Rate* (calculated by the Banco de Moçambique)	9.30%
Cost Premium (calculated by the AMB)	6.20%
PRIME RATE OF THE MOZAMBICAN FINANCIAL SYSTEM	15.50%

* The Reference Rate is calculated based on information relating to the period from the 26th of each month to the 25th of the following month.

The Reference Rate is the average rate measured by the volume of Interbank Money Market (IMM) overnight maturity transactions, namely (i) transactions between the BM and commercial banks at the MIMO policy rate, currently set at 9.25%, (ii) repo operations between commercial banks and (iii) lending between commercial banks. The Banco de Moçambique (BM) calculates the Reference Rate every month.

The Cost Premium is the margin representing the risk elements of banking activity not reflected in interbank market operations, which is added to the Reference Rate to make up the Prime Rate of the Mozambican financial system. The Cost Premium is calculated quarterly by the AMB based on a method that takes into account the country's rating, the credit default ratio, the cleaned-up credit ratio and the reserve ratio for liabilities in national currency. The Cost Premium arose from the AMB's assessment of these factors, as communicated to the Banco de Moçambique (BM) by the official letter 17/DIR/AMB/2021, of 25 March.

The Prime Rate of the Mozambican financial system is the single reference rate for variable interest rate credit operations and results from the sum of the Reference Rate and the Cost Premium. This rate applies to contracted credit operations (new, renewals and renegotiations) between credit institutions and financial companies and their customers, plus a margin (spread), which is added to or subtracted from the Prime Rate, by analysing the risk of each particular credit category or operation.

The Reference Rate Agreement of the Mozambican banking system sets out to promote greater transparency in fixing variable interest rates in the market and improving the monetary policy transmission mechanism.

II. Standardized Interest Rate Spreads

Credit institutions should widely disclose to their customers and the general public the standardized credit spread for each credit product category.
